Department of Department of Defense

Seismic Design for Buildings Department of Defense, 2010-01-27 The Unified Facilities Criteria (UFC) system is prescribed by MIL-STD 3007 and provides planning, design, construction, sustainment, restoration, and modernization criteria, and applies to the Military Departments, the Defense Agencies, and the DoD Field Activities in accordance with USD(AT&L) Memorandum dated 29 May 2002. UFC will be used for all DoD projects and work for other customers where appropriate. All construction outside of the United States is also governed by Status of Forces Agreements (SOFA), Host Nation Funded Construction Agreements (HNFA), and in some instances, Bilateral Infrastructure Agreements (BIA.) Therefore, the acquisition team must ensure compliance with the more stringent of the UFC, the SOFA, the HNFA, and the BIA, as applicable. UFC are living documents and will be periodically reviewed, updated, and made available to users as part of the Services' responsibility for providing technical criteria for military construction. Headquarters, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (HQUSACE), Naval Facilities Engineering Command (NAVFAC), and Air Force Civil Engineer Support Agency (AFCESA) are responsible for administration of the UFC system. Defense agencies should contact the preparing service for document interpretation and improvements. Technical content of UFC is the responsibility of the cognizant DoD working group. Recommended changes with supporting rationale should be sent to the respective service proponent office by the following electronic form: Criteria Change Request (CCR).

Ufc 4-440-01, Warehouses and Storage Facilities Department of Defense, 2014-10 This Unified Facilities Criteria (UFC), UFC 4-440-01, contains criteria for planners, engineers, and architects on the planning, engineering, and design of Department of Defense (DoD) storage facilities. The information in this UFC applies to the design of all new construction projects, to include additions, alterations, and renovation projects in the continental United States (CONUS) and outside the continental US (OCONUS). Alteration and renovation projects must update existing facilities to meet the guidance and criteria contained in this UFC within budgetary constraints. Includes a list of applicable NIST, UFC, and MIL-HDBK cybersecurity publications for consideration. Why buy a book you can download for free? First you gotta find a good clean (legible) copy and make sure it's the latest version (not always easy). Some documents found on the web are missing some pages or the image quality is so poor, they are difficult to read. We look over each document carefully and replace poor quality images by going back to the original source document. We proof each document to make sure it's all there - including all changes. If you find a good copy, you could print it using a network printer you share with 100 other people (typically its either out of paper or toner). If it's just a 10-page document, no problem, but if it's 250-pages, you will need to punch 3 holes in all those pages and put it in a 3-ring binder. Takes at least an hour. It's much more cost-effective to just order the latest version from Amazon.com This book is published by 4th Watch Books and includes copyright material. We publish compact, tightly-bound, full-size books (8 1/2 by 11 inches), with glossy covers. 4th Watch Books is a Service Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB). DoD Building Code (General Building Requirements) Department of Defense, 2016-06-20 If you like this book (or the Kindle version), please leave positive review. This update to UFC 1-200-01 represents the Tri-Services effort to bring uniformity to the military use of non-government model building codes. Technical representatives of each of the four Services developed requirements in this document to implement the use of the 2015 International Building Code (IBC) consistent with the scope of current military requirements and procedures. This UFC applies to the design and construction of new and renovated Government-owned facilities for the Department of Defense (DoD). It is applicable to all methods of project delivery and levels of construction. Includes a list of applicable NIST cybersecurity publications for consideration. Why buy a book you can download for free? Entry Control Facilities/Access Control Points Department of Defense, 2005-05-25 UFC 4-022-01 UPDATED and just released 27 JULY 2017 ePub version also available for use on Kindle, iPad, Android tablet, and iPhone. This UFC presents a unified approach to the design of Entry Control Facilities (ECFs). The term Entry Control Facilities encompasses the overall layout, organization, infrastructure, and facilities of an entry control point or access control point. ECF is synonymous with the term Access Control Point (ACP) used in some Service publications. This UFC identifies design features necessary to ensure that infrastructure constructed today will have the flexibility to support future technologies, a changing threat environment, and changes in operations. Commanders, security personnel, planners, designers, architects, and engineers should use this UFC when designing primary and secondary ECFs of an installation. A limited-use ECF, which is open only occasionally, may not require the same level of infrastructure. Technical information considered generally known to professional designers, architects, or engineers or readily available in existing technical references (Unified Facility Criteria, Military Handbooks, Technical Manuals, etc.) has not been included. This UFC is one of a series of security engineering Unified Facilities Criteria that cover minimum standards, planning, preliminary design, and detailed design for security and antiterrorism. The manuals in this series are designed to be used sequentially by a diverse audience to facilitate development of projects throughout the design cycle. The manuals in this series include the following:

- o DoD Minimum Antiterrorism Standards for Buildings.
- o Security Engineering Facilities Planning Manual.
- o Security Engineering Facilities Design Manual.
- o Security Engineering Support Manuals.

UFC 4-022-01 falls into the category of an engineering support manual. Includes a list of applicable NIST cybersecurity publications for consideration. Why buy a book you can download for free? Protective Coatings and Paints U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, 2004-01-16 PURPOSE AND SCOPE. This UFC is comprised of two sections. Chapter 1 introduces this UFC and provides a listing of references to other Tri-Service documents closely related to the subject. Appendix A contains the full text copy of the previously released Military Handbook (MIL-HDBK) on this subject. This UFC serves as criteria until such time as the full text UFC is developed from the MIL-HDBK and other sources. This UFC provides general criteria for protective coatings and paints. Note that this document does not constitute a detailed technical design, maintenance or operations manual, and is issued as a general guide to the considerations associated with protective coatings and paints. APPLICABILITY. This UFC applies to all Navy and Air Force service elements and contractors; Army service elements should use the references cited in paragraph 1-3 below; all other DoD agencies may use either document unless explicitly directed otherwise.

Administration Facilities Department of Defense, 2014-05-21 UFC 4-610-01 6 May 2008 thru Change 2, 21 May 2014 This UFC provides guidelines for evaluating, planning, and designing basic Administrative Facilities. This manual does not give detailed design guidance on interior design or provide theory and principles of interior design. The information in this UFC applies to the design of all new construction projects including additions, alterations, and renovation projects. Alteration and renovation projects should update existing facilities to meet the guidance and criteria in this UFC. However, this UFC is not intended as a substitution during design for thorough review by individual Program Managers and Operations Staff in the appropriate Service. Options are also included for mitigation of common building deficiencies. This UFC was developed to accomplish the following: * Provide contingency personnel with procedures to assess an existing facility to determine if the building achieves the minimum Life Safety and Habitability requirements to allow for occupancy in support of military operations. * Provides options for mitigating the risks inherent with common building deficiencies. Interior Design Department of Department of Defense,2007-07-16 UFC 3-120-10 15 June 2006 including Change 1, July 2007 This UFC is a coordinated compilation of Interior Design requirements, and references non-Government standards to the greatest extent practicable. It provides a succinct reference for Interior Designers to ensure that all requirements are met. This UFC:* Defines the requirements for interior design work on military construction and renovation projects;* Relies on a list of industry and government standards, codes and references; and* Provides DoD sources for standards and guidance not otherwise addressed. Cost impacts are negligible; however, design delays should decrease as all requirements for all services are now in a single, consolidated document that has been coordinated with other elements of construction and renovation projects. Includes a list of applicable NIST cybersecurity publications for consideration. Why buy a book you can download for free? First you gotta find it and make sure it's the latest version (not always easy). Then you gotta print it using a network printer you share with 100 other people - and its outta paper - and the toner is low (take out the toner cartridge, shake it, then put it back). If it's just 10 pages, no problem, but if it's a 250-page book, you will need to punch 3 holes in all those pages and put it in a 3-ring binder. Takes at least an hour. An engineer that's paid $75 an hour has to do this himself (who has assistant's anymore?). If you are paid more than $10 an hour and use an ink jet printer, buying this book will save you money.
