Miscellaneous Essays by H. T. Colebrooke, with Life of the Author Henry T. Colebrooke, 1873

Medieval Life Cycles Isabelle Cochelin, Karen Elaine Smyth, 2013 The essays in this collection present new research into a variety of questions on birth, childhood, adolescence, adulthood, middle age, and old age, ordered in a more or less chronological manner according to the lifecycle. The volume exposes attitudes and representations of the lifecycle from the Anglo-Saxon period to the end of the Middle Ages as being full of inconsistencies as well as definitive categories, and of variation and stasis. This attests to the fact that medieval conceptions and representations of the stages of life and their interrelationships are much more nuanced and less idealized than is usually credited. Medieval conceptual, mental, artistic, cultural, and sociological processes are scrutinized using various approaches and methods that cross disciplinary boundaries. What is emphasized across the volume is that there were varying, context-dependent rhythms of continuity and change in every stage of life in the medieval period. The volume's selection of authors is international in scope and represents some of the leading current scholarship in the field.

Miscellaneous essays. With life of the author by his son sir T.E. Colebrooke Henry Thomas Colebrooke,1873

Life Cycles and Long Waves Tibor Vasko,1990-05-09 This collection of papers presents views and research results on long waves and on life cycles and illustrates the causal relationship between these two processes. The authors include leading researchers in the field and managers from industry who have tried to apply the knowledge on life cycles and long waves in business decision-making and who describe the factors that have to be taken into account. The papers contain a large amount of data in condensed form which convey the long-term dynamics of underlying processes. The applied analyses of individual cases also serve as illustrations of a mature methodology. The book should interest not only students and researchers investigating the dynamics of technology but also businessmen who wish to obtain a long-term perspective on the development of technology and economy.
