Finding Meaning and Beauty in an Idiotic World Wei-Ching Chang,2019-05-09 What are the most important things in life, and how can we live more ethical, fulfilling lives? In our modern world, it is not always easy to answer these questions; human needs and ethics have been obscured by the destructive demands of capitalism, colonialism, discrimination, militarism, and other sociopolitical forces. In Finding Meaning & Beauty in an Idiotic World, Wei-Ching Chang offers us a roadmap to thinking through these complex issues, distilling the meaning of life into a series of universal values pertaining to truth, goodness, and beauty. No social mechanism will be left uncovered, as Chang draws upon both Eastern and Western philosophies and the fields of literature, film, political science, and women's studies to examine each one. The themes that emerge include reason over faith and intuition, the importance of freedom and equality in democracy, how to diminish the calamities of war and violence, and ultimately, how to act cooperatively with one another in the cultivating of worldwide ethics. The result is a thought-provoking tour de force that teaches us, through the power of logic, how we can better appreciate our own lives and act more generously to nurture the lives of others on both personal and global scales.

Tradition and Dissent Florence Bonzer Greenberg, Anne P. Heffley, 1967 Writing is a craft as well as an art, and most students can learn to write with reasonable facility. The first part of this book is the rhetoric, and its first part aims at unlocking whatever verbal ability the student possesses, and moving to greater fluency. The second section of the rhetoric deals with the persuasive essay and is traditional in its treatment and progression. The reader contains selections designed to stimulate interest and response in the student. The readings range from the simple to the complex, and can serve as models for the rhetorical principles outlined earlier. The majority of the reading selections are accompanied by study questions, and each section of readings is followed by writing assignments.
