Scripting Genocide Nicholas K. Johnson, 2025-06-30 Scripting Genocide traces the history of how and why the Wannsee Conference has repeatedly attracted the attention of American, British, and German artists, writers, and filmmakers since 1960. Almost all of their televisual depictions of the conference itself are sparse, minimalist, dialogue-driven productions. Their subtle, almost scholarly projection of the conference stands in stark contrast to the large-scale and often critically acclaimed attention devoted to other aspects of the Holocaust in both big-budget theatrical films and European art cinema. Scripting Genocide investigates how the dramatic, fictionalized depictions of the Wannsee Conference offered filmmakers, and especially screenwriters, opportunities to be public historians. This book also contains the final interviews with screenwriters Paul Mommertz and Loring Mandel. Following the methods of the New Film History, which is grounded in archival production material, oral history interviews, and screenplay analysis, this book asks why and how filmmakers have grappled with portraying Wannsee in dramatic form since the 1960s. Each of these docudramas contributed to a diffuse body of work the author conceptualizes as antifascist television. In the end, all of these productions argue that words prefigure deeds.

Mass Violence in Nazi-Occupied Europe Alex J. Kay, David Stahel, 2021-12-22 This scholarly anthology explores the violence perpetrated by Nazi Germany, shedding new light on its staggering scale and scope. Mass Violence in Nazi-Occupied Europe argues for a more comprehensive understanding of what constitutes Nazi violence and who was affected by this violence. The works gathered consider sexual violence, food deprivation, and forced labor as aspects of Nazi aggression. Contributors focus in particular on the Holocaust, the persecution of the Sinti and Roma, the eradication of useless eaters (psychiatric patients and Soviet prisoners of war), and the crimes of the Wehrmacht. The collection concludes with a consideration of memorialization and a comparison of Soviet and Nazi mass crimes.

Das Auswärtige Amt bei der Wannsee-Konferenz. Wie nutzte das Amt seine zugeschriebene Rolle bei den Plänen und der Durchführung zur "Endlösung"? Caroline Meinhardt, 2020-09-14 Studienarbeit aus dem Jahr 2018 im Fachbereich Geschichte Deutschlands - Nationalsozialismus, Zweiter Weltkrieg, Note: 1,7, Christian-Albrechts-Universität Kiel (Geschichte der Neuzeit), Veranstaltung: Das Auswärtige Amt, Sprache: Deutsch, Abstract: Die vorliegende Arbeit bietet Antworten auf folgende Fragen: Welche Rolle spielte das Auswärtige Amt hinsichtlich der Lösung der Judenfrage? Welche Handlungsmacht wurde dem Auswärtigen Amt, insbesondere Martin Luther bei der Planung der Endlösung zugeschrieben und wie nutzte er diese? Inwieweit war das Auswärtige Amt an den Deportationen und der Vernichtung der Juden beteiligt? Aufgrund dieser und anderer Fragen wurde 2005 von dem damaligen Bundesaußenminister Joschka Fischer die Unabhängige Historikerkommission eingesetzt, die die Vergangenheit des Amtes im Dritten Reich aufarbeiten sollte. Diese Arbeit beginnt mit einer kurzen Darstellung der Geschichte des Auswärtigen Amtes, mit einem besonderen Blick auf die 1940 gegründete Abteilung Deutschland. Im folgenden Kapitel wird die Radikalisierung des Amtes analysiert, insbesondere auf dem Weg vom Madagaskarplan bis zur Wannsee-Konferenz, wo die Entscheidung zur Endlösung getroffen wurde. Dabei wird dargestellt, wie es zur Konferenz kam, welche Vorbereitungen dafür getroffen wurden und was bei der Konferenz besprochen wurde. Des Weiteren wird untersucht, welche Rolle dem Amt bei der Lösung der Judenfrage zugesprochen wurde, welche Handlungsmacht Luther bekam und wie er diese Macht nutzte und für sich einsetzte. Für die Untersuchung des letzten Punktes, die Nutzung der Macht, wird erörtert, wie weit das Amt in die Vorbereitung und Durchsetzung der Deportationen beteiligt war. Dazu wird zum einen die noch untergeordnete Rolle des Amtes bei den Deportationen in Frankreich, Belgien und der Niederlande untersucht, zum Anderen die Deportationen in Südosteuropa, wo das Amt mehr Zuständigkeiten besaß.

Political and Citizenship Education Stephanie Wilde, 2005-05-16 This volume examines both concepts and realities of citizenship education from various international and research perspectives. It is divided into two main sections. The first group of chapters are all by researchers closely associated with the International Association for the Evaluation of Educational Achievement (IEA) study into citizenship education and focus on the findings reported in the study as well as on the processes of the study itself and the indications for the future. The second group of chapters report on research projects and complement the insights of the first group of chapters. Whereas Part One involves broadly quantitative empirical data, Part Two features chapters with a more qualitative approach. The chapters have a broad geographical range, including the USA, the United Kingdom, Australia, Hong Kong, the Czech Republic and Germany. They also report on a variety of different data sets, use different research approaches, and include findings from the large-scale IEA study as well as a personal account of a research network and two qualitative studies.

Die Wannsee-Konferenz vom 20. Januar 1942 Peter Klein, 1996 States that, contrary to widespread opinion, the decision to annihilate the Jews of Europe was not taken at the Wannsee Conference held on 20 January 1942. The policy already existed, and had been implemented at least from summer 1941. At the time of the Conference the number of murdered Jews in the USSR, executed by the Einsatzgruppen, had reached half a million; the deportation of German, Austrian, Czech, and Luxembourg Jews, as well as the construction and operation of the first extermination camps for Polish Jews, prove clearly that there was no need for a decision at Wannsee. The 13 participants in the Conference were brought together by Heydrich in order to cope with difficulties which arose during the implementation of the extermination plan, such as the extent and timing of planned deportations and the choice of the proper manpower to carry out the orders meticulously. States that Holocaust revisionists use fragments of the Wannsee protocol to support their arguments.

Citizenship Education in Germany Stephanie Wilde, 2004-01-01 This volume focuses on cross-curricular and extra-curricular activities within the broader context of citizenship education in secondary schools in Germany. It sets out the background and history of citizenship education in Germany before moving on to selected case studies of specific activities in secondary schools in different federal states in eastern and western Germany. These case studies focus on activities centred on two main topics - intercultural education and the National Socialist period in Germany. These activities are not part of formal schooling, but rather represent examples of young people and teachers engaging in citizenship education beyond the classroom - or, in a positive sense, 'not doing it by the book'.

In the Shadow of the Holocaust James F. Tent, 2003 James Tent recounts how these men and women from all over Germany and from all walks of life struggled to survive in an increasingly hostile society, even as their Jewish relatives were disappearing into the East. It draws on extensive interviews with twenty survivors, many of whom were teenagers when Hitler came to power, to show how half-Jews coped with conditions on a day-to-day basis, and how the legacy of the hatred they suffered still lingers in their minds.
